Alpha Mugs: Press Release February 2015

Available now at: <http://www.findmeagift.co.uk>

We thought it was about time we made afternoon tea more tantalising and the mid-morning coffee more compelling! So, we have gone all out and have 6 new collections of “Alpha Mugs” including the Insulting, Swearing, Naughty, Glam, Teen Speak, Nerdy and Family collections. This means we have a range of 34 mugs covering the whole alphabet! There’s a mug for everyone, some slightly more suggestive than others so whilst they are a great gift option for whoever you need to buy for – sense of humour levels need to be considered before purchasing!

Unlike your average beverage container these ceramic mugs have handles which form the first letter of the word that’s printed boldly on their cream finish. We’ve all seen the few alphabet handled mugs out there but these top them off, shine all over them and look down at them from their coolest mug pedestal.

We all know someone who will brazenly use an insulting mug, someone with a dirty sense of humour who will slurp out of a swearing mug, along with a Saucy Sue or Horny Howard who would bask in the glory of receiving a naughty mug! We all have an office mug thief who will be stopped in his tracks with a select few of this range! Have no fear though, there is a family collection in case you need a gift for the in-laws, there’s also a selection of teenage words for an “Oh what do I buy for the teen that has everything” moment!

Let’s not forget the Glam range, which will suit one of each girlie in a gaggle of friends, perfect. Followed by the nerdy range which will delight any film, sci-fi and spreadsheet chap or chapess with their fun yet fully functional hot beverage drinking vessel.

*Please note we haven’t included images of the mugs with rude or offensive words on them, please contact us for images of these.

Mugs have never been so M’u’gnificent!
